DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 17-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Wallentin (US 2002/0168984).

As to claim 17, Wallentin teaches a network element for handling radio resource control in a radio access network (figure 2 and paragraph 0018, 0019, 0046-0048), comprising:

means for receiving a relocation-specific information;

means for establishing, in response to the receipt of said relocation-specific information, a link to a drift network element specified by said relocation-specific information; and means for initiating a downlink bi-casting procedure to said network element and to a serving network element to be subjected to relocation, or a downlink transport forwarding procedure from said serving network element to said network element

Art Unit: 2683

As to claim 18, Wallentin teaches a network element according to claim 17, wherein said network element is a base transceiver station, a base station controller or a radio network controller.

As to claim 19, Wallentin teaches a network element for handling radio resource control in a radio access network (figure 2 and paragraph 0018, 0019, 0046-0048), comprising:

means for adding an identification information to a relocation-specific information, said identification information identifying a drift network element supporting said network element in serving a user equipment; and means for transmitting said relocation-specific information to a target network element to which radio resource control of said user equipment is to be relocated.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-16, 21-46 are allowed in the previous Office Action.
